ANNUAL REPORT, SIMONE DE BEAUVOIR INSTITUTE, 1998-1999

- 1) Administration: One council meeting was held on February 12, 1999. There was no Annual General Meeting scheduled this year.

The Institute was loaned a piece of art work titled "Persons" by Carole Cliff, a graduate of Concordia's Fine Arts Programme. The mixed medium piece celebrates the 1929 Person's Case.

- 1a) Principal: Dr. Kaarina Kailo returned from her sabbatical leave on July 1, 1998. Dr. Chantal Maillé's term as Principal ended on May 31, 1999.
- 1b) Support Staff: The two office staff received new computers and scanners.
- 2) Documentation Centre: The Documentation Centre obtained the services of a student assistant for two terms. Nathalie Pilon was hired for 12 hours per week for the fall and winter semesters. Please refer to Appendix A for a report by Documentalist Carol Mitchell.
- 3) Faculty Personnel: There are no changes to report concerning faculty personnel.
- 4) Membership: The complete Masthead Membership list of the Institute for 1998-1999 may be found in Appendix B.
- 5) Student Enrolment and Participation: In 1998-1999 including the summer of 1998, the Institute offered 19 courses and tutorials to a total number of 576 students, equalling 1728 student credits. Our courses are 3-credit courses. On average there were 8 courses of 30 and over students and the rest had between 11-29 students. Please refer to Appendix C for a list of Women's Studies courses.

The following Women's Studies student received recognition for her outstanding academic work:

Vaughn Charlton received the Thérèse F. Casgrain medal. This medal is awarded to the most outstanding graduating student in Women's Studies.

- 6) Programmes and Curriculum Development: At the February 12, 1999 council meeting, Principal Chantal Maillé announced that the Institute would like to waive specific requisites for advanced 300 and 400 level courses. The Institute proposes that 300 level courses be available to students who have completed 15 general credits and 400 level courses be accessible for any student who has completed any 30 credits. These modifications will have to be approved by the Faculty Curriculum Committee. Based on final enrolment in course figures, there was a 30% drop in the number of students who applied for Women's Studies as of June 1998. Women's Studies figures from 1996-1998 show a drop from 139 full-time programme students to 113 for a change of -13.8%. However, there is an increase in the number of students taking Women's Studies courses (undergraduate seats) by 3.4%. Women's Studies courses are being filled with non-programme students.

- 7) Research Seminars: The central theme for the 1998-1999 Research Seminar Series was "Sites of Desire." Research presentations either followed the theme or reflected the individual interests of the Institute's researchers. Nilima Mandal Giri and Dr. Elizabeth Henrik organized the fall seminar presentations and Dr. Karin Doerr and Dr. Anna Alexander organized the winter seminar presentations. Please refer to Appendix D for a complete list of research presentations.
- 8) Public Events: The Institute received $3750 from the Colleges Visiting Lecturer's Committee. Please refer to Appendix E for a complete list of the Institute's public events.
- 9) Outside Representation: The faculty and fellows of the Institute attended many national and international workshops and conferences. These outside representations enable our professors to meet and network with their counterparts in other universities, to share their expertise and research, and to learn about other Women's Studies programmes. This section also includes media interviews and feminist/community action of the Institute's members. Please refer to Appendix F for a partial list of outside representation.
- 10) Concordia Representation: Members of the Institute gave their time in organizing and giving presentations at other Concordia Departments. Please refer to Appendix G.
- 11) Service – Internal and External: Members of the Institute have continued to serve on a wide range of external, University and Institute committees. Institute members are involved with a number of organizations, foundations and groups. Please refer to Appendix H for a partial list of internal and external service.

Gifts and Donations

Ten additional Ph. D. dissertations and several books from her collection were given by Sister Prudence Allen; former Women's Studies student Alison Carpenter donated three books; Author Claire Braux, a SGW alumni, presented the Reading Room with a signed copy of her book: Medusa and her Sisters. Nathalie Pilon donated The Myth of the Goddess.

The Women's Studies Students Association (WSSA) gave us $127.00 which enabled us to add ten monographs to our collection.

Joy Bennett sent several boxes containing the original research notes used to compile Simone de Beauvoir: An Annotated Bibliography, co-authored with Gabriella Hochmann.

Institute Adjunct Fellow Dr. Diana Pedersen of Concordia's History Department sent us two videos: The Burning Times and Goddess Remembered.

Hadas Lahav, an Arab Israeli author who visited the Reading Room a few years ago and has remained in touch sent us two of her new publications: The Additional Factor: the Role of the Community in Confronting the Crisis of the Arab Education System in Israel and The Case of the Mother's School in Majd al Krum.

Salsa Tazi, a journalist from Casablanca, Morocco, now a Women's Studies student, presented us with a copy of a book (in Arabic) by her father, noted Moroccan author Dr. Abdelhadi Tazi, A Brief History of the International Relations of the Kingdom of Morocco, an abridged version of the original 10 volumes, entitled The Diplomatic History of the Kingdom of Morocco

Dr. Michael Chervin, Coordinator of the Montreal Innovations Roundtables Program, Concordia Institute in Management and Community Development, sent us a copy of Nadya Burton's M.A. thesis, "Feminist Pedagogy and Unlearning Homophobia."

Two boxes of unsolicited donations arrived. These included excellent documents on First Nations Peoples and material on New Reproductive Technology, most of which we do not have in the collection. As well, many books on diverse topics have been donated anonymously.

Purchases

After many years of making do with small step stools, the Reading Room has finally acquired 4 library stools. These will be of benefit to everyone using the Reading Room and hopefully will prevent neck strain suffered when trying to reach the higher shelves. We have also received a new typewriter, a proper Simone de Beauvoir stamp and a small computer table. An old computer no longer used by the secretary was been updated and now CLUES is accessible for the first time in the Reading Room.

Work Study Programme

We received funding from the Financial Aid Office again this year to hire a student for 12 weeks per fall and winter semester (12 hours per week). The pay was $8.00 per hour plus 4%, half of which came out of the $10,000.00 allotted for the Documentalist's salary. Nathalie Pilon, a graduate of the Women's Studies Programme, and now a second year Masters Candidate in the Religious Studies Programme, held the position of Documentalist's Assistant this year. She had worked in the Reading Room a few years ago, thus was very capable and needed no instruction. She even managed to do some cataloguing which is still done manually. It is gratifying to note that Ms. Pilon has been awarded a Graduate Fellowship in Canadian Jewish Studies.

Notes of Interest

I attended the annual QLA (Quebec Library Association) Conference in May. Of particular interest, in view of the Reading Room's isolated fourth floor location, was a presentation by Police Constable Sylvia De Sousa, a Concordia Masters student in the Dept. Of Sociology, who spoke on library security. She suggested that we make use of the Concordia Student Patrol to supplement the visits by Concordia's Security Department.

For the first time this year, we have had an ongoing book and periodical sale. Books are priced at $1.00, paperbacks at 50 cents, and periodicals at 25 cents. This eliminates pricing and paperwork and many sales are accompanied by donations. Volunteer Muriel Ward continues to come in on an occasional basis to assist with filing the clippings in the vertical file.

I have been asked several times this year to write recommendations for professors and students applying for research grants.

Concerns

In August 1998, water poured through the doorframe of MU 401-1 and the surrounding area. This necessitated removing all the books stored in the adjacent cupboard, then returning them later and covering them with a plastic sheet. In March 1999 and in May 1999 there was more flooding. Carpets were soaked, walls had huge damp patches and the water went through the entire building. Several boxes of irreplaceable papers were ruined. If we had more space, the boxes would not have been stored on the floor.

We have put in a request to the Space Planning Committee to expand the Reading Room by encompassing the rest of the 4th Floor. This would enable us to take journals off the floor, have additional space for students to work, to relocate the government documents and ease the congestion.

Security patrol on a sporadic basis during the semester but not at all afterwards.

The Institute's Communications Officer Susan Sullivan continues to do most of the necessary secretarial work for the Reading Room.

Once again, this has been a positive and busy year.
